Program assesses experienced mediators who have completed at least 20 mediations/200 hours of mediation	Yes
Optional comment	The assessment is done in the presence of the candidates (in a training room, or online in a virtual training room) each of whom will be able to explain to the teachers how he/she carried out his / her mediations and how long they lasted and how much they professionally enriched him/her. Furthermore, the candidate must deposit at CONCILIA the written list of mediations carried out, also certifying the number of hours spent in mediations. He/she must have reached a minimum of 200 hours of mediation and 20 mediations. Furthermore, evaluative tests will be furnished to candidates on the basis of the CONCILIA Assessment Program.

Mediator Experience

The Qualifying Assessment Program (QAP) must include a methodology for ensuring that Applicants have demonstrated to the satisfaction of the Program's Assessors a substantial level of experience as a mediator. The QAP must include clearly identified criteria on this requirement.

CONCILIA Certification as "CERTIFIED MEDIATOR" is possible only for experienced mediators. Many CONCILIA Certified Mediators are more experienced than 200 hours of mediation and 20 mediations (required by IMI). Furthermore, every Italian "CONCILIA certified" mediator has to be prior accredited by the Italian Ministry of Justice, having passed a qualifying training course of minimum 50-hours of theory and practice, organized by an accredited ADR Center. Moreover, to maintain the status of CONCILIA Certified

Mediator, a mediator must accumulate a minimum of 18 hours of refreshing courses every two years and must certify that he/she acted as a mediator every two years in at least 10 mediations.

CONCILIA Candidate Mediator shall have and maintain high professional competency in mediation skills (both theory and practice), having competence in procedural aspects of the resolution of disputes rather than the mediator's familiarity with technical knowledge relating to the subject of the dispute. Therefore a professional who requests the "CONCILIA Accredited Mediator Status" (CAMS) shall obtain (first) and demonstrate (after) necessary skills and substantive training appropriate to the mediator's areas of practice and upgrade those skills on an ongoing basis.

The methodology used for determining the level of practical experience that the mediator has includes:

- 1) letter of intent including
 - a. Proof that a mediator has performed, at least, 10 mediations, of which at least 3 in the previous year. The proof is provided by the aspiring CONCILIA's mediator by sending copies of the "forms of appreciation" of the managed mediations, with the parties' votes about the service provided;
 - b. Adherence to one of the codes of ethics.
- 2) commitment to attend every two years at least a refresher course lasting at least n. 18 hours (theoretical and practical)
- 3) possible certificate of professional liability insurance.

Mediation Knowledge

The QAP must include a methodology for determining that Applicants have demonstrated a strong understanding of general mediation theory and practice which may be based on written tests, essays, reports, theses interviews and/or other testing platforms.

All CONCILIA Registered Mediators are prior required to pass a written test composed of 70 multi-choice questions relating to mediation theory and practice. The questions give the opportunity to the participants to test their capacity of being professional mediators, both theoretically and practically. Furthermore, every candidate has to pass an interview with an assessor who investigates the particular mediation knowledge of the individual and his/her attitude to become a civil and commercial mediator.

Mediator Skills

The QAP must include a methodology for the evaluation of candidates' performance in terms of the occurrence and effectiveness of mediation process and mediation techniques, against high competency benchmarks. The Evaluations/Assessments may be based on roleplay or live action assessments, and may include videotaped and online assessments such as web dramas, self-assessments, interviews, peer reviews, user feedback and other in-practice skill evaluations.

Besides the above-mentioned written examination, Concilia will test with role-playing, tests, and mediation simulations that candidates have some particular skills, qualities, and characteristics (candidates will receive written feedback covering the areas of competence where their performance needs improvement. Unsuccessful participants will be advised as to which areas of performance or knowledge they need to address before presenting for further evaluation) The assessment process is spread over a 4-hours period.

Role-playing will last at a maximum of 1 hour and will be focused on some important aspects of the mediation procedure as, for instance, the mediator's speech, how to investigate the parties' wills to proceed to mediation, the use of questioning by the mediator, etc..

Candidates will play as mediators and assessors will act as mediation parties and lawyers. Candidates will be free to act without a specific process, but they will be provided with some information to be covered. The environment will be a training room, if possible, or online (via Zoom, Webex, etc..).

While a complete mediation simulation will mean that the candidates will have to manage an entire mediation procedure from a start to a finish, role-playings will occupy the candidates only for the specific task required (e.g. : introductory speech by the mediator, management of the first mediation programming meeting, etc.).

CONCILIA will try to organize the assessments at least twice a year.

To pass this assessment a mediator must cumulate a minimum score of votes – at least 130 points – in a total of 4 sessions.

Each session can be composed of written texts to be done by the candidates or of a role-playing or of a mediation simulation. It depends, from time to time, on the assessors' wills. But, in any case, sessions are evaluated with the same criteria as follows.

The above-mentioned skills, qualities, and characteristics on which candidates are tested are the following:

During the 1st assessment session – Mediator qualities (to pass the exam of this session: 90 points maximum, 45 points minimum):

- Ability to identify and separate the mediator's personal values from issues under consideration;

During the 2nd assessment session – Procedural skills (to pass the exam of this session: 80 points maximum, 40 points minimum):

- Ability to treat the parties equally and fairly
- Patience
- Involving all
- Sustaining optimism
- Flexibility
- Use of positive language
- Turning negative language to positive

- Ability to use clear and neutral language in speaking and in writing
- Gathering information with the use of open question
- Checking comprehension with the use of closed questions
- Testing possible solutions with the use of hypothetical questions
- Testing the reality with the use of challenging questions
- Correct use of silence effectively
- Ability to help parties invent creative options
- Ability to screen out non-mediabile issues
- Ability to help the parties identify their own BATNAs and WATNAs

During the 3rd assessment session – Negotiation skills (to pass the exam of this session: 60 points maximum, 30 points minimum):

- Using information tactically
- Helping parties to use information positively
- Identification of key points
- Dealing with interruptions
- Dealing with the power imbalance
- Dealing with inappropriate behaviors
- Moving from the past to the future
- Moving from rights and obligations to interests and needs
- Avoiding impasse
- Helping the parties in saving their own face
- Making long-lasting decisions
- Ability to earn trust and develop rapport

During the 4th assessment session – Case management skills (to pass the exam of this session: 20 points maximum, 10 points minimum):

- Maintaining timetables
- Avoiding redundant time
- Using visual aids (as power-point slides, overhead projector, video-recorder, etc...)
- Keeping the parties informed

Program Transparency

The benchmarks and criteria applied by the QAP must be published and be openly accessible on the organization's website. Details of all approved programs will be listed on the IMI web portal www.IMImediation.org and will include a direct link to the credentialing organizations' websites. Responses call for the link (if available), or the reasoning why it is not included and the timeframe for publishing.

The benchmarks against which candidates for CONCILIA Certification are assessed are written in: http://www.concilia.it/CONCILIA_COMPETENCE_ASSESSMENT_PROCEDURE.pdf and in the homepage at www.concilia.it and www.conflictresolution.it

Program Integrity

Each Assessor must have substantial experience of assessing the performance of mediators. At least one of the Assessors on each Program must be independent of the QAP. Responses call for the criteria applied in appointing Assessors, any independence requirements, and how independence is determined.

The Scientific Responsible of CONCILIA is Mr. Alessandro Bruni (IMI Certified mediator, Lawyer, Founding Member of Concilia Srl and Concilia's Board Member; Professor of "Mediation and Conciliation" and "Strategic Management of the Human Resources", The International Academy of Sciences of Peace, Rome; accredited by the Italian Ministry of Justice for ADR Training Courses; accredited as a mediator by the Italian Ministry of Justice for civil and commercial mediations).

For the purpose, CONCILIA created a Competency Assessment Committee (CAC) formed by professional mediators and trainers acting as evaluators.

To be an approved CONCILIA Assessor, a professional must have long-time experience of mediating and of assessing the skills of mediators.

For every examination session, in order to have some external professionals acting as Assessors, CONCILIA can call some experts officers from some Italian Chambers of Commerce. They are independent from the QAP.

Ongoing Monitoring of Programs

The QAP must include a process for the ongoing monitoring of the performance and practice of the Assessors. IMI will liaise closely with all recognised program organizers to maintain a sustainable quality control system.

After the qualification as "CONCILIA Certified Mediator", for to remain on the CONCILIA Roster, a mediator must accumulate a certain number of Continuing Professional Development (CPD) hours. Every two years, he/she has to accumulate a minimum of 18 hours of training in mediation, developed by a qualified ADR Center, accredited by the Ministry of Justice. If the above-mentioned requirements are not taken, the mediator loses his/her “CONCILIA certification”, and he/she is canceled by the list of accredited mediators.

The Assessors will be monitored by CONCILIA’s Board of Directors and CONCILIA’s Scientific Responsible and under the guidance of IMI, will ensure strict interpretation and competent application of the Guidelines. CONCILIA will annually evaluate the performance and practice of the Assessors using the following criteria: impartiality, competency, and objectivity. The Assessors attend regular assessor meetings (off-line or on-line), and they are stimulated to discuss particular difficult issues regarding assessments. CONCILIA also provides for occasional assessment tests for assessors to assure their professionalism and devotion to assessment.

Commitment to Diversity

The QAP must be made accessible on an equal basis to experienced mediators regardless of their professional affiliations, gender, race, ethnicity, age, religion, sexual orientation or other personal characterization.

CONCILIA encourages applications of mediators from all sectors of society, regardless of gender, race, ethnicity, age, religion, sexual orientation, and personal characterization. Membership is open to all mediators of good standing, and who can provide minimum standards of qualification.
